You are a search system user interested in specific topics. You pose a set of questions and get responses from the system in a form of short texts. Read carefully each question and the system's response and answer the questions below.

Rely solely on you own judgment, restrain from using additional sources other than the ones referenced in the response.

Important note: We kindly request your utmost attention and thoroughness in responding to the questions. Please be aware that answers lacking sufficient justification that indicate a lack of attentiveness, may be subject to rejection.

Question 1

Question: How do you get impartial results from search engines?

System's response:

To obtain impartial search engine results, ensure you clear your browser cookies and history regularly, use a variety of search engines, and search in incognito mode to avoid personalization. This will help eliminate bias and provide a more neutral search experience. Additionally, it is useful to search using specific keywords provided by the search engine companies themselves, as this ensures unbiased and neutral information retrieval.
